What can R&S do for you ?

We have worked with many Churches and Chapels, locally and Nationally. We remove, clear and re-use unwanted fixtures and furniture paying a fair price with a clear paper trail for such goods.

Schools benefit from our ability to promptly react and remove unwanted laboratory equipment, furniture, fixtures (such a old fireplaces, sinks partition doors , radiators) , catering equipment, floors. Payment on removal

Factories and Industrial units can be cleared of seemingly unusable items that not only Generate additional cash flow but also greatly reduces the cost of skips and waste collection. Again we remove, clear and re-purpose these materials to keep them out of the waste stream.

Home owners & property developers can also benefit from similar reduction of waste costs while gaining income at a critical time from unwanted goods. Further our extensive experience in the removal of awkward items can save them labour costs from their own workmen and Risk of damage to valuable items

LIGHTS, CAMERA, SALVAGE!

The chosen stock of our ever get for a highly visible event is to be seen in the area, but for Andy Watson of the Reclaim & Salvage Company it's a double win. Earlier this year, a number of highly visible, historic 'Suffolk' buildings were closed for restoration work. They included the Grade 1 listed Norfolk House in Norwich. The Reclaim & Salvage Company has a large volume of reclaimed stock in the various warehouses in Norwich - and plenty of transport of it. It's very handy as the buildings are in the city, so it's easy to get to the site. Andy has supplied materials for - but much more importantly - the restoration of the Norfolk House in Norwich.
